Student Scientific Conference

Wednesday, November 26, 2025 3:26 PM (1 minute)

The Student Scientific Conference is an annual showcase of scientific and professional works by students of bachelor's, master's and doctoral studies from all fields of mathematics, physics, computer science and didactics of these disciplines. All contributions are assessed by a scientific committee, the best of them are awarded as winners or laureates of the ŠVK, or nominated for other special awards. The most successful participants will have the opportunity to represent the Faculty at the relevant Czech-Slovak competition. Abstracts of the works, or their extended versions, are published annually in the proceedings of the conference.
